Re: In Re: Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001, 03 MDL 1570 (GBD) (SN)

Dear Judge Netburn:

The Plaintiffs' Executive Committees and counsel for the Ashton Plaintiffs ("Plaintiffs") write to object to the "letter-motion requesting leave to take fact discovery of Plaintiffs" filed by Defendant the Republic of the Sudan ("Sudan"), ECF No. 10969. Sudan's letter-motion is an improper diversion from the genuine issues that need to be prioritized at tomorrow's hearing.

Sudan failed to meet and confer with Plaintiffs before filing its application, even though it had ample opportunity to raise the issue during a conference call held at Plaintiffs' request on May 13, 2025. Sudan's letter-motion is, in turn, vague and imprecise as to the nature of the discovery it seeks to pursue, instead presenting ambiguous requests for authorization to conduct further document discovery of Plaintiffs, or to serve unspecified Interrogatories and Requests for Admission at some "appropriate time." Plaintiffs are gravely disadvantaged by Sudan's unfair lack of notice and clarity.

As the Court previously recognized, Plaintiffs have been subjected to layers of discovery from myriad other defendants. Plaintiffs already produced all documents in their possession relevant to Sudan's material support of al Qaeda and the 9/11 attacks. In contrast, Sudan has confirmed that effectively all relevant records in its government files are no longer available and will not be produced. See ECF No. 10967 at 2.

Under these circumstances, as set forth in Plaintiffs' May 23, 2025 status letter, id., the first items of business the Court should address are Sudan's failure to produce relevant documents in response to Plaintiffs' discovery demands and Plaintiffs' spoliation motion.

To the extent the Court anticipates considering the substance of Sudan's letter-motion, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court set a schedule for briefing the issue. See Tr. (Feb. 4, 2025) at 34 (Sudan raised the prospect of "briefing Sudan's right to take discovery of plaintiffs").
